Exclusionary auto warranty-

This is the warranty that extends the best and most comprehensive coverage. To understand the coverage you will have to look at the components that are not covered. When looking at the policy, any of the components not listed are covered.

Powertrain auto warranty-

This is standard element for which most warranties are derived. This is the warranty that covers 100% for parts and labor for the components such as engine block, water pump, transmission, trans axles cases, axle housings and any of the internally lubricated components.

Listed Component auto warranty-

Most warranties for all vehicles are a Listed Component Warranty. Whether you just drove your vehicle off the lot or have owned it for years this is the standard auto warranty. This warranty only covers the items, service and parts listed in the warranty policy.
